

WILSON ECHO

Published by the Students of Warren H. Wilson Vocational Junior College

Volume VII

Swannanoa, North Carolina, January 14, 1949

Number 13

The Echo Goes To Press . . .

By Shelby Cutshall

Every year some new students journeying along life not knowing what they are going to do, take printing because they are interested to find out just what goes on in the printshop. A few of these students wind up graduating in printing.

Printing is a fine art which can only be achieved with experience. It would take this entire paper to tell about everything in our shop and the various uses of each machine, so here is only room to tell how this paper is printed.

First there must be news. What is news? News is a record of the latest outstanding facts of the daily happenings that make history for tomorrow and repeat history of the past. Very few things in our paper make history, yet there is news that makes Warren Wilson history.

Someone wishes to express his ideas, so he puts his ideas on paper. The paper is read and slashed to pieces by the editor's pencil, and a typewritten copy is made to be read again for mistakes.

The copy is then given to one of the students who goes to his type case and sets the letters one by one until he has completed the article. Some of the copy is set on a machine, called the Linotype. Then this typesetting must be proofread for mistakes and corrected accordingly.

When all the copy and all the articles enough to fill one side of the Echo are set and corrected, they must be placed in their proper place in a steel chase and bound by furniture and quoins. When this is completed one has a form that is placed in position to print.

The press is inked and the right impression achieved by pasteboard cards placed under the tympan stretched across the platen. An impression is

(Continued on Page 4)

Dr. Ferry Is Speaker for Religious Emphasis Week

Radio Executive Coming

Mr. Robert Lambe, General Manager of WNCA, will speak at the chapel program Tuesday morning. Mr. Lambe's presentation will have two points of interest, one from the viewpoint of the general listener and the other from that of a student who might be looking forward to some phase of radio broadcasting as a vocational interest.

Bannerman in New York

Dr. Bannerman has been spending several days in New York City attending the annual meetings of the Association of American Colleges and of the Presbyterian College Union.

Among the speakers at the Association meetings are Warren R. Austin, United States delegate to the United Nations, and Harold E. Stassen, President of University of Pennsylvania, former candidate for the Republican Presidential ticket.

In addition to attending these meetings, Dr. Bannerman spent a day at the Presbyterian Board offices transacting business relative to Warren Wilson College. Before returning to Warren Wilson he plans to spend Saturday and Sunday with his mother and other members of the family in Titusville, New Jersey.

New Rug in Chapel

A new rug for the stage was purchased by the Board of Deacons out of the Deacons' fund for $307.

Personal Conferences, Informal Discussion Groups Are Planned

Dr. Asa Ferry, from Asheville, will conduct four religious services during Religious Emphasis Week which will begin January 19 and will continue through January 23.

Religious Emphasis Week has been observed here for a number of years. Before this time it has been held later in the year, but both the Cabinet and Session feel that so the advantages of this week may be practiced through the year, it is better to have these services earlier. This week is marked by daily evening services followed by voluntary, informal chats at the houses. These "bull sessions" are conducted by members of the faculty, with a visitation to each group from Dr. Ferry one of these nights. There will be an opportunity during this time for students to have personal interviews with Dr. Ferry concerning personal problems, vocations, and religious thinking. Those wishing an interview with Dr. Ferry should see Mr. Deihl.

The programs are being planned by the following groups: Wednesday night, the Christian Fellowship Cabinet; Thursday night, the Women's Missionary Society; Friday night, the Deacons; and Sunday morning, the Session.

(Continued on Page 4)

WILSON ECHO

WARREN WILSON COLLEGE
Owned and operated by the Board of National Missions of the Presbyterian
Church in the United States of America.

CAROLYN OSBORNE—EDITOR
MARY FRANCES CALLAHAM—ASST. ED.

Reporters

BUCK CRUISE SHELBY CUTSHALL
LESTER CENTERS JACK HENSLEY
MARGARET SMATHERS DOT RAY
BETTY LINDSEY JERRY RAMSEY
LENA ZIMMERMAN CHRIS SCHERLING
TYPIST—EVELYN BALLARD
TYPESETTING AND PRESSWORK
BY STUDENTS IN PRINTING

Advisors

PRUDEN SMITH AND V. H. ELIASSEN

Rudeness in Chapel

It was called to the attention of readers of the ECHO some time ago that there was too much noise in assembly and vespers services. This situation still exists.

Sunday evening was an excellent example. After working on the program, the committee in charge and the people in the program were faced with a somewhat rude audience. Just because someone is in costume or plays a part different from his natural self does not mean that this is necessarily the time to laugh. The chapel speaker Tuesday was very good, yet many students missed the message he brought because they were far too interested in passing notes or getting their neighbors to giggle. If you learn to be quiet, it will embarrass your neighbor to be disorderly.

We as a student body owe it to ourselves and to the reputation of our school to be more attentive and less boisterous at such services.

Truth is as clear as a bell, but it isn't always tolled.

Exams Next Week

Mid-term exams will be given Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. All grades must be in the office January 26.

Show Tomorrow Night

Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers, starring in "Top Hat," will be seen on the screen here tomorrow night. This movie features many song and dance numbers, with a number of Irving Berlin tunes.

The story is full of romance and comedy, and includes an exciting chase through the canals of Venice.

This show starts at 8 p.m., and the admission is 15 cents.

January 1949

S M T W T F S

						1
2	3	4	5	6	7	8
9	10	11	12	13	14	15
16	17	18	19	20	21	22
23	24	25	26	27	28	29
30	31

The man who wastes today lamenting yesterday will waste tomorrow
lamenting today.
Philip M. Raskin

See if you can match these nicknames with the right names:

- | | |
|----------------|-----------------------|
| 1. Whitey | Dorothy Watkins |
| 2. Clara Belle | Mary Kennedy |
| 3. Zoomie | Evelyn Ballard |
| 4. Red | Iva Ruth Williams |
| 5. Sharpie | Dan McMurray |
| 6. Big Six | Claretha Jenkins |
| 7. Monkey | Martha Ann Long |
| 8. Slim | Margaret Smathers |
| 9. Murt | Donald Zumstein |
| 10. Mert | Mary Frances Callaham |
| 11. Poison Ivy | Edgar Howell |
| 12. Cally | Nathan Sharp |

School Receives Generous Gifts

Dr. Bannerman has announced the receipt of two special gifts, one for $750 and the other for $500, during the Christmas holidays.

The $750 donation came from Mr. Carl Bamford of the Publix Bamford Theatres, Inc. of Asheville. Mr. Bamford has designated that this gift go toward the purchase of a 35-mm. projector. The total cost of this projector will be between $1500 and $2000 and Mr. Bamford is hoping other friends in Asheville may be willing to contribute toward this sum.

The second gift of $500 came from Mr. Albert Garrou of Valdese, North Carolina. Mr. Garrou, who is Secretary-Treasurer of the Waldensian Hosiery Mill, was a student at Asheville Farm School more than 40 years ago. Mr. Garrou did not designate the purpose for which his gift should be used, but the administration has tentatively decided to apply it toward the cost of the projection booth which will be necessary to house the new motion picture equipment when it is received.

At the same time, however, there are a number of other chapel needs, including the reconstruction of the stage in order to make more room for the choir and minister, a new piano, and also a new heating system. Since all of these objects would cost several thousand dollars, the administration is considering the initiation of a chapel fund drive which it believes would be supported by other alumni and friends of the school.

LOST AND FOUND

All items lost or found should be reported to Jack Hensley.

LOST—Small two-bladed black handled pocket knife.

FOUND—One black glove.

FOUND—A pair of ladies' blue mittens.

The Siren Speaks

(A reprint of Mr. Eckard's classic poem)

I—THE SIREN:

At half past six, each day, all week,
I wake 'em up with sharp shrill shriek,
And lest they fail to break their fast,
I quickly sound another blast.

The busy boys I call to work,
My far-flung scream lets no one shirk.
From brazen throat my sweet notes gush,
And happy boys to shop work rush.
My high notes pierce the cloudy vapor,
And studious sons to classes caper.

When boiling cabbage scents the air,
I call to mess but all are there.
I call to meals, but hate to do it
For there I find they beat me to it.

At seven p.m. my wailing call,
Summons all hands to Study Hall.
At nine p.m. 'mid deafening roars,
My shriek is stilled by slamming doors.
And, when at last I sound for taps,
All boys go straight to bed—PERHAPS.

Sometimes, at two a.m. I rave,
And *Julius Portnoy starts to shave,
Or, by mistake, I blow at four,
And other teachers cease to snore.

On Sundays, bit of earthly heaven,
I stay my screech 'til half past seven,
And then, to call the fold to church,
I chime the time from my lofty perch.
I wail by night, and hail by day,
To work, or study, meals, or play.

WE—THE PEOPLE:

Dear old siren, high up there,
Thanks for the music in the air.
You guard us all from some insouciance,
And so we love you 'tho a nuisance,
And when we leave these HAPPY HALLS
We sure will miss your eerie calls,
For then, 'tho sweeter sirens sing,
We'll still love you—

YOU DARNED OLD THING.

—Bayard G. Eckard

*Portnoy, a former teacher, who resided in the boys' dormitory, was roused by the untimely blast and proceeded to get ready for breakfast.

Snoop... Snoop

Miss Paxton really must be from Pennsylvania. She didn't even know the feed trough in the Dam Pasture from a picnic table. At least that is what she thought it was.

Marjorie and Anita sure have affection for sailors. Right, girls?

Evelyn Ballard just can't get away from Franklins, can you Evelyn?

Barbara Zoochi sure was happy when a certain little guy arrived from vacation, even though he was late.

Carolyn Snyder is the latest victim of heartbreak, and J. L. is the heartbreaker. Shame on you, J. L.!

It seems that Rue is a very popular girl in St. Clair these days. Not in her own right, though. She has some very good-looking first cousins who come calling on Saturday night. Right, Chris, Agnes and Sylvia?

Campus Visitors

Mr. Floyd Wallin from Marshall, Rt. 3, was visiting his daughter Thelma Monday morning.

Mrs. Estelle Leatherwood and Mrs. Stamey, grandmother and mother of Harry and Richard, were on campus Sunday afternoon.

Tommy Monroe and Ray Turnage, on leave from the U.S.S. Saipan, stationed at Norfolk, Virginia, have been visiting Margie Lee and Anita Darling.

Mrs. Mandeccia Darling, of Candler, attended church Sunday with her daughter Anita this week.

Mrs. Cloaninger and Bill's little sister were here Sunday.

Open House in Lounge

A sincere thanks to members of the faculty who have given useful items to make the Mens' Lounge comfortable. "A home away from home" is the feeling expressed, and sincerely.

A cordial invitation is extended to all at the "open house" to be observed after supper tonight.

PRACTICE MAKES PERFECT, we are told—especially the practice of what we preach.

—Northwestern National News

TEMPERATURE READINGS

Last column—precipitation in inches

		Low High
Jan. 6	Thurs.	35	44	0.45
Jan. 7	Fri.	34	60	0.00
Jan. 8	Sat.	39	58	0.00
Jan. 9	Sun.	39	69	0.00
Jan. 10	Mon.	41	69	0.00
Jan. 11	Tues.	50	68	0.00
Jan. 12	Wed.	45	50	Trace

Roy White Goes To Top in Sports

By Ernst Laursen

Roy White, ex '47, who left school here and went to Geneseo, Illinois, has won top-flight recognition in the field of sports.

The football team for which he played fullback won the conference championship this year and Roy was noticed and was chosen as an "All State Fullback." He also was tied for high scorer of the state.

He has been offered a scholarship to Notre Dame and the University of Illinois by personally talking to the coaches of these colleges.

While at Warren Wilson, Roy played football both at end and in the backfield. In basketball, he played a nice game as guard, and in baseball he caught and played third base.

At Geneseo Roy is also playing forward for the basketball team and has earned a letter in track.

President to Speak

Dr. Bannerman will be one of the speakers on a World Affairs Forum to be held on Tuesday, January 18 at the George Vanderbilt Hotel. This forum is sponsored by the Asheville chapter of the United World Federalists, and any staff members or students from Warren Wilson College who may find it possible to attend, are invited to do so.

Youth Budget Met

Members of the student body can well afford to pat themselves on the back due to the fact that their 1948 church budget was met ahead of time. In fact, the whole church budget is going over the top this time.

More Vocational Tests

The Church Vocations group will meet in the Pastor's office to continue the testing period Tuesday at 7 p.m.

LEARN THIS YELL

We're down on the floor—
The floor's red hot!
You can't beat us
With the team we've got!
T-E-A-M Yea Team!
T-E-A-M Yea Team!
T-E-A-M Yea Team!
WILSON!!!

For several weeks yells will be run in this paper so that everyone will be able to learn them.

Dr. Ferry Is Speaker

(Continued from Page 1)

Dr. Ferry has spoken to the Montreat College girls and at the Vespers services of the First Presbyterian Church in Asheville many times. The Fellowship Commission of the Christian Fellowship Cabinet has arranged for twenty Montreat College girls to attend the opening night services of Religious Emphasis Week. The Montreat girls will attend the informal "bull sessions" that follow the services in the chapel.

The Echo Goes to Press

(Continued from Page 1)

taken on the undersheet by which to set the gauge pins to center the form on the sheet. Makeready is the next step and is done by taking an actual print on an Echo sheet after which the weak places are covered with tissues to make them print as the strong ones do and this sheet is inserted in the packing. When makeready is completed the position is rechecked and the gauge pins fastened securely.

The counter is set and the process of feeding the sheets in one by one begins. The same details are followed for printing the other side which is the two inside pages. The people on the Echo staff do the folding and deliver the faculty papers.

It is very hard to explain all there is in the printing of our paper. A visit sometime might prove interesting to anyone. If any scientist thinks this work tame they should come and see the type lice.

Aggies Divide Pair of Games

Girls Come Thru, but Boys Lose by 3 Points

The Aggies split a twin bill with the players from Woodfin High Tuesday night. The Aggies fought hard in both games with the results leaving the girls a victory of 26-22 and the boys losing 26-23.

In the first game Imogene Drinnon took the lead with a total of 12 points and Barbara Rhea followed closely with 9 points. The second game was a heartbreaker, our boys dropping it with a slim margin of 3 points. Ward and McKinney were high scorers for the boys, scoring over half the points.

Woodfin held an edge over our boys throughout the entire game leading at the half with a score of 14-11. The first half of the game our boys played a zone defense against man to man but at the half Coach switched to man to man. Our boys have the disadvantage of being too short to work the ball under the basket against a taller team. The girls had things under control throughout the game despite the closeness of the score.

The Aggies are playing games tonight and tomorrow. So far this year the Aggies (both teams) have lost two games and won two.

Bulldozer Purchased

The newest arrival of heavy equipment on the campus is an International TD-40 bulldozer, owned jointly by Mr. Wheeler and Coach DeVries.

The bulldozer was purchased for hire, and will be used in the surrounding neighborhood for excavation, removal of stumps, and leveling jobs. It weighs about 10 tons.